MODEL UN CONFERENCE HEAD NAMED FOR 1955 S.F. SESSION

Karl Knuth to Activate Special Orientation Plan

'Sponsors '54' Will Provide Individual Attention Program

Karl Knuth, newly elected Activities Commissioner, has taken his first step to revive school spirit at San Francisco State. His program, entitled "Sponsors '54," is outlined to instill in new students interest in all phases of school activities and to give them a feeling of belonging to their college.

The plan will call for 1,000 State students divided into teams. The members of these teams will then write a letter to an incoming student asking him to attend a party on September 13. The party will include a box social, treasure hunt for freshman dinks, and a combination carnival and dance.

Speaking about his program Carl stated, "'I hope this plan will give each new student a feeling of importance in the college. This can effectively be done when the new student feels that one old student cares about him as an individual. If anyone is interested in or has any questions about Sponsors '54 I hope he will contact me or one of my team generals or captains."

Team generals are: Will Finck, Pat Graham, Levell Holmes, Jeanne Kessey, Ron Byrnes, Rich Nave, Dick Laine, Clair Lloyd, Bonnie Baltsen, Marge McGinnis, and Tery Yoki.

Full House Sees Colorful Aquacade

An estimated 400 people filled the college pool to capacity last Friday evening to witness "Ports of Call," S.F. State's first annual aquacade.

According to Miss Mozelle Gooch, the show's director, some 290 regular seats were sold out long before "curtain time." Despite uncomfortably cool weather, over 100 persons remained outside the gym awaiting entrance until standing room was made available.

Among the many highlights of the colorful two act presentation was the visit to Sidney, Australia. Marilyn De Long, Rita Zydonia and Marianne Olsen received great acclaim for their part in depicting "Bunnies of the Bush Country."

Also high on the list of successful performances was the solo swimming of Cathy Stevens.

Gymnastics proved valuable in contributing to the entertainment of the audience when 10 students went through a variety of stunts illustrating their skill on the mats.

The official results of the gate receipts have not yet been compiled. Faculty advisors, however, expressed the opinion that the show was one of the most successful of its kind, both in attendance and financially, ever to be held here at State.

OFFICIAL NOTICES

Veterans are reminded to turn in their PL 550 slips for May and June, on June 2. Material on registration for summer semester should also be included with this. Contact Mrs. Krause for further information.

The Library will be closed 5 p.m., Wednesday, June 9, until 8 a.m., Thursday, June 24, due to reorganization and the moving of the Education Collection from the old to the new campus.

Golden Gater Editors Selected

Keith Pinckney will command the fortunes of the "Golden Gater" for the next academic year, it was announced at last Friday's semi-annual Publications Banquet.

This semester's Managing Editor, Pinckney was appointed by the Board of Publications, along with Jay Taggart, who will serve as Managing Editor. Mike Quihillalt was appointed Summer Editor.

All "lesser" editorial positions on the regular and summer staffs will be made by the already appointed officers, with the Board of Publications.

Pinckney was honored, along with the appointment, by being selected by his fellow staff members 'Outstanding Journalist" of the semester. In other awards, Quihillalt was selected as best news writer, Dale Tussing was named best editorial writer, Nancy Meloy presented the best feature story, and Leroy Pacini copped the best sports story award.

Bob Horn, president-elect of the Associated Students, officiated at the affair.

Sentimental highlight of the evening's festivities, held at "Grant's Charcoal Broier," was the presentation of an engraved cigarette lighter to Earl Barnett, head of the Gater print shop on campus, by the assembled staff members.

Varied testimonials to "Barney," as Barnett is known to his friends, were given, as the student journalists expressed regreat at the leaving of the veteran linotypist and press man, due to increased personal difficulties.

The appointment of John P. Maxwell, this semester's News Editor, to Publicity Director of the Model United Nations Convention, to be held here next Spring, was also revealed.

Summer staff positions are open to all members of the student body; those interested should contact the Gater officer, in T-1, as soon as possible.

Baltsen Elected Soph President

Bonnie Baltsen was elected Sophomore Class President last week over Don Crawford by a vote of 121-100.

After the election Bonnie stated, "I feel very wonderful and thrilled about winning. I only wish more students would have turned out to vote."

Bonnie went on to say, "I hope to have at least one sophomore class activity a month. To do this, I feel that a cross-sestion of ideas from a majority of the class is necessary. I hope to get this collection of ideas by having a large council and passing out a questionaire to all sophomore students."

Chan Meloy Will Lead State as Host Director

By JOHN P. MAXWELL

A committee composed of faculty and students met last week and chose the governing board of the Model UN United Nations Commission whose job it will be to organize and set-up S.F. State college as the site for the Model U.N. in 1955.

Chan Meloy, past president of the Speakers Bureau, was named Conference Director; Tom Schaefer, member of the Model U.N., was appointed Assistant Conference Director; Bob Cannon, member of the IRC, gained the position of Secretary General; Jo Ann Hendricks, past secretary of the IRC,, was chosen as Executive Secretary; John P. Maxwell, News Editor of the Golden Gater, is Publicity Director; and Dean Dorothy Wells has been appointed Administrative Advisor to the Commission. Dick Goff was appointed secretary-treasurer.

A Faculty Advisor position is yet to be filled but the Social Science Division is expected to supply the instructor for this job. The person will be required to teach a course in the varied aspects of the United Nations. This course will be offered in the fall to prepare potential delegates and insure their success at the Model UN in 1955.

At the initial meeting of the Commission Easter week was set as the tentative time for the conference with the S.F. Opera House as the place for the General Assembly to meet. Committee meetings are to be held on this campus. A site for the yearly banquet has not yet been chosen nor the principal speaker.

Students who are interested in the success of the Model UN at State and who would like to contribute time and effort to work towards this goal, are welcomed and urged to contact any of the people mentioned.

Blood Drive Hits 200 Pint Mark

Over 200 students rolled up their sleeves last Thursday and Friday in the "Blood for Jim" drive. The 216 pints of blood collected will mean 216 days of safe life for Jim Garner, sophomore Stater, who is a victim of hemophilia.

Student Body President Bert Phillips announced that the drive was the most successful blood collection held so far on campus. He also stated that it was one of the best held in west coast colleges to date.

Jim was at the Gator Swamp Hut to extend his personal thanks to those who gave so that he might live a normal life. He also thanked those who were rejected for various reasons and were unable to give. "It was their intentions that were important," said Bob Long, a chairman on the drive.

Jim will be able to go ahead with his plans to be married this fall because of the drive and its publicity. The drive received write-ups in two local papers which eventually led to a donation of "all the blood he needs" from the inmates of San Quentin Prison.

GRAVES TO SPEAK IN COLLEGE UNION

Richard P. Graves, Democratic candidate for Governor of California, will speak at S. F. State College, 12 noon, Wednesday, June 2, in the College Union.

Candidate Graves is expected to state his position on issues brought up by Governor Knight, who was on campus week.

This year Alabama is spending approximately $112 per child ensolled in the public elementary and secondary schools. The national average is $247.

Editor: After hearing much controversy over the Friday, May 21, edition of the Golden Gater, it appears to us that something should be done.

It seems that in other colleges the paper represents the entire college but "our" paper only tears down the organizations that are trying their best to lift school spirit.

There is an obvious discord between the journalism staff and these many organizations. Certainly this is not good journalism for prejudices and feelings should not be brought into a college newspaper.

Childish pranks should be taken care of within the organization and not by the newspaper. Why aren't the good, healthy functions published in the paper? It seems the editor overlooks the good, for it is evident that the good overshadows the few misunderstandings of these organizations. Who supports the few school functions? The sororities and fraternities.

The organizations should be a credit to the college, not disgraced by its own school paper.

Anonoymous

Editor:

The publication of "Whirlpool" aroused varied comments among the readers. The comments should be brought to the publisher, thus, I hope my criticism will be taken for what it is worth.

I like the "Whirlpool" for what it is worth, in my estimation, and I feel that freedom of speech is wonderful, but my criticism is against the ethics used. I believe that saying such things as, and I quote, "Life is no bigger, and no smaller than the person makes it," is above sarcasm, and criticism.

San Francisco State College, the Gater, and the Year Book have many faults and good points. I am sure the students that enjoy working for these objectives will admit their advantages, as well as the disadvantages. However, San Francisco State College is a growing college, the faculty and students are trying to alleviate the faults. This objective can not be done by unnecessary criticism.

I wonder if the students who find so many faults with San Francisco State College are really trying to improve the principles of State in a constructive manner?

The Golden Gater staff is always trying to improve the paper. The staff tries to put out a paper to the best of its ability and facilities.

If some people are disturbed by the past of present electioneering, why not let the candidates make their own decisions as they have always done when campaigning? After all, the candidates usually do have good competition and a campaign has to show originality if one is to know that the "unknown" candidate is willing, and has the sincere desire to want to work for his office before and after election.

I feel if such a paper as the "Whirlpool" is kept in circulation the incoming freshmen would read it and wonder what is wrong with State, or is the paper just a joke? Incoming freshmen are important, for one reason: they help build the spirit which is threatened in many ways. Why add another way?

If there are so many serious faults in S.F. State as the author of "Whirlpool" thinks, the proper place for him or anyone, to bring up such criticism, is Student Leadership Conferences or to the Board of Control, or Directors.

I believe that San Francisco State College is growing instead of "going to the dogs."

Dear Editor:

In the San Francisco News of May 19th appeared the following statement concerning the use of state facilities in Governor Goodwin J. Knight's political campaign: "Knight said he has given 'strict instructions' that no state facilities be used in his campaign."

On the same day that this appeared, Governor Knight staged a rally and made a speech which were decidedly political in nature. His use of the State ollege Union Building in speaking to the noon hour lunch crowd was a direct violation of his own instructions as reported in The News.

In the interests of education and political fair-play, I request that the Golden Gater urge the college to officially invite candidate Richard Graves to the campus for the same type of function.

San Francisco State students most certainly are interested in this election and in the proper use of state property. It would be a step forward if both candidates for the Governorship appear on our campus. It will be a step backward if the candidate now in office is allowed the exclusive use of state property for political purposes.

Sincerely,
George P. Carter

College Congratulated For Blood Drive Effort

Mr. Bob Long, President
The Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council
Campus

Dear Bob:

The Board of Directors of the Associated Students wishes to commend and congratulate you, the officers and members of the Interfraternity-Sorority Council, those students who assisted you in publicizing and planning the Blood Drive, and all those interested students who donated their blood to Jim Garner.

The number of pints of blood contributed during this Blood Drive more than doubles the number of pints donated at any previous Blood Drive held on the campus; and stands very high in comparison to records established at other colleges throughout the State.

Such wholehearted and enthusiastic support of a worthy cause such as this is indicative of the kind of individual and group spirit which unifies the college community and gives evidence of the sincerety and good faith of the students at San Francisco State College.

Cordially yours,
THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

QUESTION:
What makes a Lucky taste better?
ANSWER:
"IT'S TOASTED" to taste better!
No question about it, Luckies taste better to thousands of college smokers.
No question about the reasons why Luckies taste better, either. Today, nearly everybody knows L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And that fine tobacco is toasted to taste better.
"It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—brings Luckies' tobacco to its peak of flavor . . . tones up this light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better.
So enjoy better taste in your cigarette. Be Happy—Go Lucky!

PSPA Gathering Called Success

By JOHN P. MAXWELL

San Francisco State College was brought to the attention of the rest of the scholastic world more effectively than ever before in its history, through the Pacific Student Presidents' Association's twenty-ninth annual convention. Student body presidents from 11 western states, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, and Mexico, numbering 105 colleges convened here May 12-15.

TALKS PAY OFF

The PSPA delegates spent many long, arduous hours discussing mutual school problems in student government and working out solutions. "Besides breeding a feeling of understanding and comeraderie, these sessions provided a wealth of information to both new and experienced student leaders," said Bob Horn, newly-elected student president of S.F. State.

ALL WORK NO PLAY

All was not work however, as a program of entertainment was sandwiched in between meetings. The delegates went on a sightseeing tour of San Francisco and of S.F. State. Music recitals were provided after both luncheon and dinner, outstanding of which were Miss Rina Braverman, a pianist from Mills College and the A Cappella Choir from College of Pacific, under the direction of J. Russell Bodley.

Miss Braverman is an exchange student from Israel and she rendered excerpts from Shubert and Chopin that were enjoyed by all. She intends to make her debut in one year in San Francisco.

BERT-STATE LAUDED

At least once a day the assembled convention accorded Bert Phillips a standing ovation of boisterous applause for organizing such a memorable and successful convention. Bert, his usual unassuming self, gave most of the credit to the students who spent endless hours doing the tremendous amount of work the convention required.

When told we were worried about our school spirit at S.F. State, Lloyd George of Brigham Young University, Salt Lake City, Utah, said; "A school that can put on a show like this with such hospitality and fervor, need not worry about their school spirit—they have it."

All through the convention the visiting student presidents were amazed at the efficiency and speed with which the various meetings and activities planned for them were carried through. Heard were such comments as: "How are they able to do it?" "The organization is amazing . . . immediately after a meeting we were handed mimeographed minutes of it as we came out the door."

STANFORD VISITED

The delegates spent the greater part of a day at Stanford University for further discussions followed by dinner, where University President J. E. Wallace Sterling outlined five prerequisites for leadership for the PSPA delegates. They were: 1. Courtesy of mind and manner; 2. Intelligence and interest; 3. Imagination; 4. Good judgment; and 5. A sense of humor.

The same evening the University of San Francisco paid the bill while all the delegates and their hosts and hostesses from S.F. State danced to the music of Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra at the Bay Meadows club house.

Winding up the three-day convention the delegates chose San Diego State college at the site for next year's convention. Jim Cavanaugh of USF was elected President, Dick Brown of Wyoming University, Vice-President; and George Sundra of San Diego State, is Host President.

PRES. LEONARD SPEAKS

President J. Paul Leonard of S.F. State spoke to the delegates at a "send-off" luncheon and reminded them that, "Frontiers are still open but don't let anyone kid you into thinking that it isn't going to take brains and energy to conquer them."

Anyone at S.F. State who is looking for that ethereal thing called school spirit need only look in the direction of the students who worked to make PSPA a success and realize that it's right at your finger tips.

Malagnini, Meloy Elected by Speakers Bureau

The Speakers Bureau Banquet was held at New Delmonicos Restaurant on Friday, May 21, 1954. The banquet was held to elect new officers and to present awards to members of the bureau.

The new officers for this term are Frank Malagini, president; Nancy Meloy, vice president; Dot Kostricken, secretary; Allen Sturgis, publicity director; and Will Finck, C.A.A. representative.

The award for outstanding administrative service to the Bureau went to Evette Montano and Nancy Meloy. The award to the faculty memers who contributed in furthering speech activities on campus went to Mrs. Bernice Biggs and Mr. Clyde Stitt.

Guild Presents Annual Dinner

Several "firsts" for KRTG were acquired at the fourth annual workshop and banquet held for the first time on the new campus last Thursday, May 20.

Two TV shows were staged for the first time from the campus. The KPIX remote crew telecast a 15-minute talk on "Color TV" followed by the regular "Hoffman Hayride," company over KPIX at 7 p.m.

Dr. Douglas M. Kelly, chief of the criminology department at the University of California at Berkeley, was the guest speaker.

Barry Simmons copped two awards at last Thursday night's dinner. One for being the best director and the other for outstanding achievement in doing the most for the Guild during the year.

Horsehiders Honor Fellow Performers

Lou Rosso, Russ Rounavaara and Ron Rosenberg were honored by their team mates last week by being chosen as the most inspirational player, captain, and most valuable player, respectively.

Rosso, senior second baseman, received the second annual Chris Mackras Trophy for the Most Inspirational Player on the baseball team.

Rosso, known as "The Gray Ghost" because of his premature grayness, played anything like an old man. Never hitting a long ball, possessing a classy batting average or making spectacular plays, Lou has nevertheless been a valuable asset to the team since the first day he broke into the regular lineup.

Little Louie started hustlin' and hollerin' that first day and has never had the word "quit," in his vocabulary.

Rounavaara, popular senior shortstop, broke into the lineup spectacularly in mid-season last year and ended up hitting at a .420 clip, establishing himself as the top hitting independent college player in this area.

Things didn't go too well for Rounavaara this year, as a fielding slump led to a hitting slump. He finally started hitting and fielding again towards the end of the season, to help State put on a fine late season winning splurge.

Rounavaara continued to be a team player throughout the season, forgetting his own personal problems, a perfect trait for a captain.

Rosenberg, sophomore left fielder, ended the season as the team's leading batter with a .352 mark, hitting steadily all season, and never once falling into a slump. He also tied for the team lead in homeruns, and proved himself to be probably the team's outstanding defensive player, continually turning in spectacular and game saving performances.

Sorority Elects

Kappa Theta's recent meeting at the home of Carol Conklin was highlighted by election of officers. The new officers for next semester are as follows:

President: Juliann Lanigan; Vice President: Doris Finkelstein; Recording Secretary: Babs Lerda; Corresponding Secretary: Sonia Eschoo; Treasurer: Carol Spady; Sergeant at Arms: Doris Schied.

The members were entertained by the pledges; Adrienne Ayers, Bonne Balsten, Carol Demartini, Dolores Garrison, Sharon Johnson, Shirley Sheridan, Marilyn Smith, Molly Sullivan and Barbara Swanson.

State Foilmen Cop Fourth in Meet

Down through the years, San Francisco State College has turned out some of the best fencing teams in the country.

The team's ability seems to run in cycles, having really exceptional teams every two or three years.

State is fortunate to have Professor Erich Funke d'Egnuff, one of the leading fencing instructors in the country, handling the varsity.

The team is composed of Allan Dorius, captain, Bob Barry, Herb Holman, Frank Turner, Tony Alhino Jack Congolina, and Hank Park.

State's team has had matches with California, Letterman General Hospital and various fencing academies around the bay area.

The team has also traveled to Pomona for the Pomona Tournament. The tournament had teams from all the leading colleges of the country, including Stanford, California, USC, UC LA, COP, Notre Dame and Washington.

Led by Al Dorius who made the semi-finals of the individual matches, the Gators finished a surprising fourth place.

Professor Erich Funke d' Egnuff states that although the fencing team had only a fair season this year, he feels that if the boys stick together and all come out for the team next year, that State should have a strong team.

Sportrait

Oreese Elmore and John Mathis, two record breaking trackmen, join the members of Sportrait this week.

Elmore, top point getter for the Gators all season,, won not only the hundred yard dash in 9:7, but also the 220-yard dash in the blazing time of 21 flat, two weeks ago at Sacramento in a triangular meet between Chico, Sacramento State, and San Francisco.

The 220 mark made by Elmore tied him with Howard Bugbee of U.S.C. for the fastest time on the coast in that event.

Mathis, a comparatively tiny freshman, standing only five feet seven inches tall, made the amazing leap of six feet three inches in the same meet, also a State record.

A special mention is in order for Clint Lee, big left handed pitcher for the baseball team, who threw the best pitched game of the year for the Gators a couple of weeks ago when he downed Humboldt State in the second game of a double header, 3-0.

Lee pitched the entire nine innings of the extra inning tilt, allowing only three hits while striking out 16 and walking just three.

State Student Scores First Ace

Dick Coltrell, a graduate student at State, shot the first hole-in-one ever made by a State student last May 11 on the 11th hole at Harding Golf course, using a six iron on the 160 yard shot.

While an undergrad at State, recently returned after a tour of duty in the Marines, was a member of the Gator golf team (50-51), President of the Block "S" Society ('51), President of Sigma Alpha Eta ('51),

Reports On Sports

Next time you're riding around on a Sunday afternoon with nothing to do, you might drop in at Park Merced and watch a game of cricket. It's entertainment at its best (in England, Australia and other British Dominions).

Cricket has an interesting but confusing history. Although all evidence points to the English as inventors of the game, there is much evidence that cricket is a derivative of an old French game, croquet.

English historians, however, while insisting that jolly old England was the founder of the game, do not know the approximate date when it was first played, where it was played, nor how it gained its name.

A drawing in Kings Library in London, dated 1344, depicts a cricket game.

At any rate, we do know that in 1477-78, Edward IV fixed a $50 fine and two years in jail for players being caught playing the game, and a $100 fine and three years in jail for anyone who permitted the game to be played on his property.

I DARE SAY . . .

Cricket had its ups and downs after that, being called "profane" and "disreputable," even though it was later declared legal.

The first match of record was played by Kent versus Surrey in 1728. Cricket's popularity increased after that, and won a great victory in 1748 when it was ruled as a legal sport by the Court of the Kings Bench.

This ruling proved that cricket was not only legal, but not a big business, and many of the fine players returned home from the Canadian League. This of course, all added up to stronger leagues and allowed many of the inadequate players who had been filling in, to be farmed out to teams in American Colonies. Thus, more spectator interest.

Some of the highlights since then have been: 1772—Hampshire played Kent, near Canterbury, before 20,000 people (maybe the Seals should have a try at cricket. Oh well, probably just another Canterbury Tale); 1880—England-Australia Test Matches started—in England; 1915, William C. Grace, greatest of English players, died. Career covered 1864-1908 period. (44 years? Must be a dreadfully strenuous game. Get in shape Mr. Mack, you're not through yet.)

The Test Matches are claimed to have aroused as much interest as World Series play in the United States.

We can picture it now. What a setting. Ye Old Ebbetts Field. Opponents—the Brookshire Dodgers and the New Amsterdam Jolly Good Yankees. Sir Allie Reynolds and the Vickor of Roe are engaged in a tight bowling dual. But the Duke of Snider come up for Brookshire late in the game and breaks up Sir Allie's shutout with a topping good rounder, which accounts for 10,475 Brookshire runs.

MURAL NOTES

By H. P. ROSCELLI

This semester's Intramural Program is fast coming to a close. With Kappa Omega, Delta Phi Gamma and East Bay A.C. still fighting it out for the All-Sports title, Mr. Harkness, along with his aides, would like to congratulate all the winners of the various tournaments.

Some of the winners and runners up of the various tournaments were; Volleyball: Iranians, Kappa Omega; Track and Field: Kappa Omega, Delta Phi Gamma; Open Basketball League: Kappa Omega, Sutro Squirrels.

The rest of the leagues have not completed their schedules as of this writing. As it now stands, KO, DPG, and East Bay AC are in the lead.

In the mixed doubles tennis tournament, Ralph Kermoian and Dorothy Laine defeated "Hook" Arata and Barbara Swanson, 7-5, 6-1, thus winning the right to face Carol Benefield and H. P. Roscelli (Note —Just as we went to press, Mr. Arata issued a challenge to Mr. Roscelli in a singles duel to the finish. Regardless of the outcome, we can be sure of one thing, the match will be won by a nose) in the final and championship round.

For horseshoe honors, Delta Phi Gamma, East Bay A.C. and the Frosh Comets are all in contention.

Surprise of the league is Delta Phi Gamma, led by Captain Will Viovich. Viovich manages to keep Jack Morgan, Gary Allyne, Vince (Poly Great) Rafello and Bill Grant all on the ball.

Before we bring this column to a close, we would like to pay tribute to one of the older students at State on his 27th birthday. Yes, it was 27 long years ago today, on a cold, dark, miserable night, that Robert Mario "Hook" Arata first made his appearance on the face of the earth.

Needless to say, the earth hasn't been the same since.

Mr. Arata also has the honor of being one of the first letter winners in this institution, gaining his block for swimming. So we, along with the few friends Mr. Arata still has, wish him a happy birthday.

BILL DORFI ELECTED WRESTLING CAPTAIN

Bill Dorffi, junior 157 pound wrestler, was elected captain of the wrestling team by his teammates last week.

Dorffi compiled a 3-3-1 record and was an inspiration to the team all year. He will return next season in what Coach Joe Verducci hopes will be a highly successful year.

Final Baseball Statistics Released

Recently released final baseball statistics compiled by Archie MacLennan reveal a successful season for the varsity baseball team.

The overall Gator record showed 13 wins as against only eight losses. Included among the wins was an early season upset victory over the then highly touted California Bears. One of their loses, the last game of the season, was a heartbreaking loss to Stanford, 4-2.

In Far Western Conference play, the Gators won five, lost four (one game rained out) which was not enough for a championship.

For the second straight year State was the second best independent team in the area. only Fresno State proving superior.

Unlike last season, when they boasted seven .300 hitters and had a team batting average of 298, the Gators of this season had to scrape by in many games because of only two .300 hitters and at times vicious infield support.

In order to compensate for this, Coach Dick Boyle had to come up with an exceptional pitching staff, which he did. Despite last season's powerful hitters, the Gators had many a close call because of having only two, at time one, reliable pitchers. This year they had four regulars who all pitched fine ball, and one outfielder, Bob LaCosta, who occassionally filled in quite capably.

JOHN BURTON GOES TO ARMY IN JUNE

John Burton, four year varsity member and All Far Western Conference guard on the Gator basketball team the past season, will be inducted into the Army in June, immediately after graduation.

During his four year tenure, Burton played on two State championship teams and established himself as one of the most colorful players in recent years. He has often been referred to as "the poor man's Bob Matheny."

Rosenberg Chosen On All-Star Team

Ron Rosenberg, sophomore Gator leftfielder, had another honor bestowed on him last week when the San Francisco Examiner chose him on their Collegiate All-Star team for independent colleges in Northern California

Rosenberg had just prior to that been chosen by his team mates as most valuable player. As well as being a standout defensive player, Rosenberg led the Gators in hitting with a 352 batting average, in total hits (25), runs driven in (19), and was second in runs scored (15). He also hit two home runs, to tie for the team lead in that department with his brother Jerry, a freshman first baseman.

At Iowa State College lightning struck the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house during initiation ceremonies. No one was hurt.
